

America is loved for it's ideals and hated for it's failure to live up to them. Exposure to diversity of opinion, including voices critical of the government, is maybe the most important guarantee of a democracy. The FCC needs to delay a decision and allow for public comment on this critical issue!!!! Democracy is not performed quickly undercover by the selected few - the FCC is supposed to work for the American public!!!